

ShareStream™

An online collaborative soft-proofing solution

RR Donnelley delivers a way to inspect your graphic files in detail immediately, remotely and in a high-fidelity colour environment. No more waiting for shipment, no more lengthy proof routing through your organisation; just fast and easy online access to your project for your entire workgroup — no matter where they are.

When even overnight is not fast enough

ShareStream™ gives you instant access to online proofing – in high-detail colour. Designed to dramatically reduce proofing cycle time during all stages of the design, production and distribution process, ShareStream™ provides:

- The ability to inspect all your production files online in high resolution. PDFs, LW/CT, TIFF-IT, DCS1 and 2, PS (and more) are directly supported so you can see every detail for maximum-fidelity proofing.
- Easy, dynamic collaboration with team-based online annotation tools that encourage commenting and drawing. Multiple users can mark up the same proof all at once or individually. Comments are saved online and can be printed for quick reference.
- 24/7 Mac and PC access via our secure Internet site, enabling easy review of your files by everyone in your organisation.
- Colour management by RR Donnelley experts based on ICC colour science, ensuring maximum openness and fidelity to industry standards.
- The ability to confidently view highly accurate colours using RR Donnelley's recommended display equipment and processes at your site.
- Seamless integration with all of our online digital asset management solutions, including ImageMerchant®, Photo-Flow®, vastly expanding your organisation's workflow possibilities.

No wait, less effort

ShareStream™ is integrated with our colour services to dramatically reduce the expense and downtime typically associated with circulating and approving proofs. No more rushing to meet the overnight shipping deadline or paying for multiple copies of proofs just to accommodate multiple approvers' schedules. With files available online at all stages of the production process, creative review, photography approval, colour retouching, and final page inspection can be handled in real time by as many parties as you like. With RR Donnelley's colour expertise, you can proof quickly, without sacrificing colour quality or accuracy.

Linked to your workflow

No proof is an island. We know proofing is about workflow as much as it is about meeting your colour standards. Our proofing solution is integrated into our online workflow so it is organised and linked, and flows smoothly through the system. Whether you are proofing a live photo shoot, a colour-corrected scan, a creative concept or a final page, ShareStream™ increases your efficiency and makes the whole process easier.
